Carver High School

Hello, Readers! The reporters are right on the job again this year, trusting that all had a merry Christmas and will have much success and happiness throughout this new year.

Old man Snow came and spoiled our last day in school, and spoiled the lovely Christmas parties that the classes had planned. The students were very sorry they couldn't enjoy the parties after working so hard at trying to make them attractive as possible. The majority of the students report that they had a quiet holiday. Some took trips, some visited friends, attended Christmas programs and parties, while others settled down at home among their families for a marvelous dinner.

All of the alumni of Carver who are attending colleges in various places were home for the holiday season. Deaster Johnson, Donald Dove, Charles Jeffries, Leon Luving, paid visits to the school. We are always glad to have our former students to come back to see us.

The S.C.A. club held its regular meeting Monday, with its president, Lillie Mae Lewis, presiding. The Student Court reported to the Council the laws of the student body, which went into effect Monday afternoon, Jan. 7, 1952.

The Student Council will hold "Student Day" April 24. Members of the Senior Class will be student teachers for the day. It is done to interest seniors in becoming teachers of tomorrow. Following Student Day, an assembly program will be held to state accomplishments of the day. If the plan is a success, the Student Council will make it an annual affair.

Work on Carver High School is running behind schedule, see page one.

The Senior Government Class under the direction of Mr. Clay, will attend the General Assembly and the State Penitentiary in Richmond, Virginia, Feb. 7.

The Popularity Contest closed before Christmas with Claude Lambert of the tenth grade reporting the highest amount of money, which was $60.00. The eighth grade placed second, the ninth and senior classes tied for third places. The elementary grades reported $99.00. The amount raised by all students was $298.00.

Prizes were awarded to the student running or his or her class.

The Tenth Graders report Elizabeth Wright and Reginald Abbitt as vacationing in Baltimore for Christmas. Many nice presents were received in this class.

Louvenia Johnson of the ninth grade, who tied with Odessa Pankey of the twelfth grade in the contest, appreciated her gift.

The Juniors in History are working very hard on an assignment given by Mr. Clay which will be due Feb. 1. They find the work quite interesting. They have just finished the chapter, Neutral Rights and Expansionist of 1812.

The Juniors are also studying city, School and Class news—papers in English. The last few days they have accomplished much on their unit. Feature stories, human interest stories, news articles, have been written, and studied.

Carver is full of amateur scientists. Warren Jones and Lillie Mae Lewis are spending much time on their projects to be entered in the contest which will be held in April, at Hampton Institute.

This brings our news to a close. Let us all resolve, to make this year, 1952, the best of our lives.

Appomattox Allotted $29,000

Appomattox County has been allotted $29,000.00 under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program, it has been announced by J. T. Hunter, County Committee Cmairman of the Production and Marketing Administration.

That figure compares with $34,000 received by the county for ACP conservation in 1951. The difference is due to a slight reduction in the National and State funds for ACP as approved by the last congress, he said.

As in previous years the program will be on a "share-the-cost" basis, Mr. Hunter explained. Individual farmers will put up anywhere from 40 to 60 percent of the cost of practices carried out.

But, unlike other years, the 1952 ACP program will require that the farmers obtain approval from local PMA County Committees for carrying out practices for which they expect program assistance.

"PMA committeemen will tailor the practices requested by each farmer to those needs considered to be the most urgent on his farm and those which will contribute to the long range conservation and production objectives," the County PMA chairman said. #If they expect to receive conservation program payments, they will be permitted to carry out only such practices as they have designated when they sign up to participate in the program."

By thus "pin-pointing" the spending of conservation program funds, Mr. Hunter said, PMA hopes to keep soil productivity abreast of defense production.

"PMA" will have a double job in 1952", he declared. "We must not only maintain and improve our soils in spite of heavy cropping for defense, but we must also assure the food and fiber that stepped-up military and defense activity will require."

The Agricultural Conservation program is one of several which PMA handles through a farmer-committee system. Others include marketing Quotas, commodity purchase loans, production goals, and assigned defense activities.

The conservation program, Hunter explained, is run on a calendar basis with funds set aside by Congress. The last Congress appropriated $256,500 for the 1952 nationwide program, of which Virginia receives $3,974.

A LIVE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER AT HISTORIC APPOMATTOX COURT HOUSE, VIRGINIA

VOLUME 60 NUMBER 3 THE TIMES-VIRGINIAN, THURSDAY JANUARY 17, 1952 $2.00 a year, payable in advance

FATHER DARKLEAF

By The Editor

In a telephone call last night Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Robinson stated they were in Atlanta, Ga., and starting home. They expect to arrive here Saturday.

The open season on unmarried began January 1, 1952. This is a Leap Year! Each four years, by tradition, the ladies have free rein to "pop the question." Often it is interesting to ask married couples about the proposal. Seldom do we hear people nowadays say that the man got down on his knees to ask romantic question.

The proportions of male and female populations in America are fairly equal, but there are nations where the women far outnumber the men, and so maybe after all the coming of another Leap Year will be welcomed.

The following piece of wisdom was passed along to us by Mr, William W. Burke, local banker.

"If you want to raise a crop for one year, plant corn. If you want to raise a crop for decades, plant trees. If you want to raise a crop for centuries, raise men. If you want to plant a crop for eternities, raise democracies."—Carl A. Schenck, famous international forester.

One of the evidences that Appomattox is a growing is the waiting list usually piled up for rent of post office boxes. In the last renn-bolding of the local office, many additional boxes were installed, but they were rented quickly, and now you have to stand in line.

Before leaving on our vacation, Dr. C. F. James loaned us a huge book of detailed maps, covered by Greyhound. You can find any spot in America on these maps, and we know that it will not be due to a map shortage if we get lost.

We were fortunate to find "Billy" Evans available to take over for us during our vacation. Billy got his start in the Times-Virginian shop, while attending A. H. S. After a hitch with Uncle Sam, he has been employed in the plants of the some of the better daily papers, including the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun. We understand he plans to return to the Washington Post.

Of all the deprivations suffered by the gallent captain of the Flying Enterprise during the fateful epic which kept the world's billions breathless, the worst—and most ironic was this: With 6000 bags of fine coffee below the decks, Capt. Carl sen could not brew himself a cup of the nectar that stiffens backbones with its stout and hopeful warmth. The ship's list made the galley stove untenable for percolator or pot.

'51 War Bond Sales Increased

Sales of Series E bonds for both the month of December and the full calendar year 1951 surpassed substanially the records of the corresponding periods a year ago. During December the sales of Series E bonds increased $107,498 over the December 1950 total of $3,846,598. For th year 1951, sales of Series E bonds increased $5,699,132 above the total of $43,953,101 for the year 1950. All figures are based on the purchase price rather than maturity value of the bonds.

Total sales in Appomattox for the year were$48,233.65 while for the month of December, $8,550.00 worth of bonds were sold.

REPORTS GOOD LEAF SALE

A good sale of dark tobacco, raised by Mr. J. B. Drinkard and tenant Saunders, was reported this week.

It was sold in Lynchburg on Monday, a total of 1534 pounds bringing an average price of 53.65 cents. The smallest lot of 84 pounds brought a low of 34 cents and the largest lot, 620 pounds, brought a price of 58 cents.

March of Dimes Continues In Efforts to Raise Funds

Aimed at eventually making infantile paralysis "as rare as smallpox," the 1952 March of Dimes boomed into high gear here and in 16,000 communities throughout the nation today, as the third week of the most critical drive in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"We are more eager than ever to knock polio into the limbo of conquered diseases," Mr. .DeWitt Evans Appomattox County March of Dimes director said, "because Infantile paralysis is on the upsurge and is the only epidemic disease still on the increase in America."

Mr. Evans called the campaign in this county one of the most important voluntary efforts ever made. He asked every citizen who has not yet contributed this year to the fight against infantile paralysis to do so at once. He said:

"This is more than a fund raising drive. It is a particularity individual appeal. The fight against polio is everybody's fight because everybody is eager to provide our children with all the protection possible against this crippling disease.

"Scientists report that we are definitely closing in on polio. We are faced, however, with keeping scientist at work and caring for patients at the same time. We must see the fight through with our dimes and dollars, if we are to achieve final victory. Our local chapter of the National Foundation must have funds with which to take care of those who need assistance when polio strikes.

"National Headquarters, meanwhile, has exhausted its funds for patient care for the fourth year in a row. It is now in debt to hospitals that have cared for patients. That is why the drive has been expanded this year. We have all worked harder in the past, but we must work harder than ever before if we are to achieve the goal of eliminating infantile paralysis as a threat to the health of our children."

The local collectors for the March of Dimes are:

G. B. Buchanan, special gifts.
Judge Joel W. Flood, coin banks.
W. S. and John Taylor, collections by mail.
Claude Smith, churches.
Mozella Price, colored schools and churches.
Mildred Alvis, white schools.

an effort to increase our total funds. The local committee has been active for several months.

"Now we come to the final effort. These next three weeks, with the help of all our citizens, can and must make the March of Dimes in this community the greatest in history."

The A. H. S. Newscast

By Peggy Ellen Cole

Another week has passed and we are drawing nearer and nearer to those exam days. The 28th, 29th, and 30th of this month are the red letter days. Now is the time for all wise students to start studying. You'll find that those answers will come quicker if you will study now and get a good night's sleep before your exams. Don't worry too much about them either, I think you'll live through them.

Have you noticed all those senior girls and boys coming to school looking unusually nice. It's all because the senior pictures are being taken this week. Just wait until the proofs of those pictures start coming back, then you will see some excitement.

There have been two basketball games since last Wednesday. Thursday night the games were at Concord, with Pamplin High School. Our boys and girls played excellent games and won both of them. The second game was played Tuesday night at New London. The girls won 54 to 40 and the boys won 36 to 28. The next game is at Concord, Jan. 17, with Bedford High School. Let's see what a big crowd we can have at the game to support the t.am.

Monday and Tuesday, as usual, were our club days. Here are the reports from two of the clubs:

The regular meeting of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y was called to order Monday, Jan. 14. Devotions were held by Shirley Walton, and the grace committee for the week was appointed by the President. There was a discussion of the cantata, "Women of the Bible" and the induction service which is to be given at the high school Friday night at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that everyone will come.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y held its meeting Tuesday. The meeting opened with devotionals, followed by a very interesting program presented by Betty Jean Goad. The meeting adjourned with the singing of a hymn.

Have you been over to the Home Economics cottage any this week? If you haven't, you ought to go and I can guarantee that your mouth will water. Different groups have been cooking and serving meals to guests all this week. From all the compliments that I have heard, the food must be out of this world. When are you going to invite all of us over girls?

That active Commercial Club has started on another exciting project. This time it's a school newspaper. I know that everyone is delighted with this prospect for it will provide quite a bit of information as well as entertainment. Nina Barlow is editor; Rosa Shupe, assistant editor; Ida Bell Harvey, business manager; feature editor, Sylvia Burks; sports editor, Beatrice Totty, and J. P. Harvey, circulation manager; Virginia Herndon; news reporters, Peggy Smith, Bertha Wheeler, and Maxie Harvey; and David Wood will write the editorials.

All other members of the Commercial Club serve as assistants. The rates are: 40 cents for the rest of the year or 10 cents a copy. Get your subscription from your home room representative. The first issue will be out the Friday before exams.

Everybody was unusually happy Wednesday because we got out of school an hour early. Oh how we love those teachers' meetings!

We are delighted to hear that Dan Carson is home after his operation. He will be back with us soon.

This about covers the week's activities, so I'll say so long until next week when I'll be back with more news and events from A. H. S.

Fire Causes Heavy Loss

Fire, breaking out at 10 o'clock last Friday night, caused an estimated damage of from $14,000 to $15,000 to lumber and trucks of J. E. Sears & Co. here.

Three trucks and about 45,000 feet of kiln drids lumber were destroyed

Answering the alarm, the Volunteer Fire Department had water flowing on the fire in nine minutes after the alarm. As a series of small explosions took place the blaze threatened to get out of control, necessitating the moving of the fire truck and calling for reinforcements from the Lynchburg fire department to stand by.

Although the fire was completely in control in a little more than a half hour after the alarm, it was several hours before it was extinguished entirely.

The blaze was first sighted by Albert Nester who called Ed Blackwell to turn in the alarm. Fireman Henry Doss was burnt about the legs slightly from an overturned oil barrel causing steam to hit him.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

The fire department answered one otheralarm this week, as they were called to the home of T. H. Richardson Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a brush fire.

INSURANCE STAFF EARNS CONVENTION TRIP

Announcement was made this week that the entire staff of the Home Beneficial Life Insurance Company located here, have reached business volume quotas set by the company to entitle them to attend the annual company convention to be held at Daytona Beach, Fla., in April. This is the first year that a complete staff has won the convention trip.

Thomas M. Richardson is manager of the local office. Agents include J. Terry Rogers, V. Roland Smith, Jr., Z. V. Harvey and J. Leslie Gordon, Jr.
